LUSH01

Tech funk phenomenon coming to Newquay!

- Lee Coombs booked as part of his UK tour
- Two clubs of mayhem sure to please crowds

The Lush crew are back again this autumn with an awesome line-up! This month's main event is taking place on the 18th October at the Koola bar and Chy Bar in Newquay and is being headed up by Lot49's very own Lee Coombs. This unique event will also feature an array of other DJs and live acts in a night which is set to impress!

Lee Coombs is renowned for bending musical boundaries and is accredited with changing the face of the breakbeat scene today. For over a decade this British producer has been at the forefront of it all; releasing groundbreaking mix CDs, remixing the world's most acclaimed artists and knocking out dancefloor destroying productions that are considered classics years after their release.

A seasoned veteran, Coombs first hit the DJ slopes in 1989, bathing himself in the acid house scene at parties around London and Cambridge. Crucial in shaping his all-encompassing approach to DJing and production, this boundary-less approach would become Coombs' trademark, mixing up breaks, house, electro, techno and acid with dexterous assurance.

In addition to Lee Coombs, the event is due to showcase performances from Backbeat Sound System, Jinal, Stan Collins, Olly G and Hi Fly, Stretch, Hong Kong Ping Pong, Sick Note and the Mighty Simian Sounds.

Stan Collins, Lush co-promoter says "We are committed to bringing top international acts to Newquay for our promotions. We intend to keep the local club scene on its feet even after the summer!"

Lush runs from 10pm until 3.30am with tunes ranging from Techfunk to Breaks and Techno. With a full club transformation with U.V backdrops and mind-blowing décor, the scene is set for it to be one of the most unique nights on the local clubbing calendar.
